

Corporate Volunteering

The team at Windmill Hill City Farm invite you to participate in one of our community volunteering projects. As a well-loved community resource with a limited budget, we need help making this space a vibrant, beautiful learning environment for all the schools, families and visitors we receive.

All our volunteering projects are great fun, motivating and challenging. We also have opportunities available for companies and teams to build longer-term supportive relationships with the farm. We understand how corporate volunteering fits into a CSR strategy and we will support you throughout the project, from discussing your needs at the start, to reviewing project outcomes at the end.

The types of projects we currently offer include the following:

Site preparation – clearing and developing parts of the garden so that schools, families and people without gardens can get involved and learn more about nature and growing.

Developing garden infrastructure – helping to develop our composting area and creating raised beds. This will really help us to green up some of the concrete around the farmyard and make it a more attractive and welcoming environment for all our visitors.

Developing the 'front of house' – helping to put in trellis and raised beds around the farm entrance to create an awareness of farming and growing as soon as people come through the gate.

Expanding our indoor growing space - putting up a new polytunnel so that we are able to run exciting growing and teaching projects throughout the year.
